Seagate ST251

The Drive That Has Created A Generation Gap.

Formatted Capacity under MFM encoding	42MB
Average Access Time	40M Sec (Standard) 28M Sec (Fast)
Magnetic Media	Carbon-overcoated, Sputtered Thin Film
Auto Park Head	Yes

■ The Seagate ST251 winchester drive has so many innovative features that other drives in the same class simply look old fashioned in comparison. ■ Super fast access time comfortably handles the most demanding data-peek operations in single-user, multi-user or networked environments. ■ The recording head auto parks to reduce chance of head crash caused by shock and vibrations. ■ Thin film magnetic media assures data integrity and reduces margin of error. ■ ST251 is simply a generation ahead in technology.

MODELS AVAILABLE: 20MB TO 80MB

ST251 is supported by Y-MICRO's full one year warranty service. Always ask for Y-MICRO Warranty Label for assured warranty service.

It's not if you'll lose data. It's when.

Head crashes. Software glitches. Operator errors.

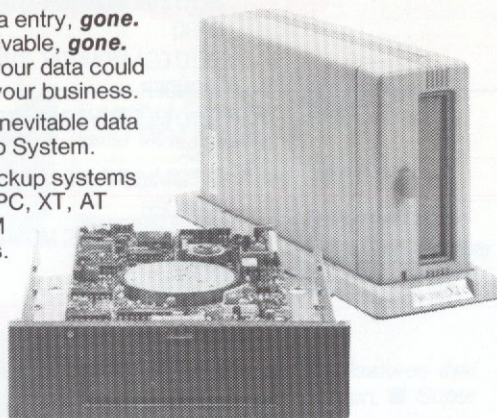

They are just some of the common causes of loss of data on computer disks.

Imagine a year's worth of data entry, gone. Custom files, gone. Accounts receivable, gone. Employee records, gone. Loss of your data could cost a fortune, or even shut down your business.

To protect yourself from the inevitable data losses, get an Archive Tape Backup System.

These simple-to-use tape backup systems are specially designed for the IBM PC, XT, AT and compatibles, as well as the IBM Personal System/2 product families.

Face reality, you need tape backup. Find out today how little a lot of personal data protection costs.

Y-MICRO - For All Your Backup Needs

TAPE RIPS THE PRICE BARRIER!

Some tapes hold things together. Others rip things apart. Take the Archive XL, which just ripped through the price barrier for tape subsystems, while insuring that valuable data is held together.

That's right, you can now have complete 40 MB tape backup systems designed for the IBM PC/XT/AT and compatibles for less than the cost for a comparable hard disk! Let Archive help rip the tape price barrier as you have your hard disk data protected in the truly reliable way.

The Archive XL — powerful, dependable, simple and now, inexpensive too!

COMPEX A-NET II™

Your Hi-Tech Advantage

Imagine connecting all the PC's in your office in a network so that they can share databases, customer files, inventory data and accounting information. Imagine being able to send memo and leave messages instantly by electronic mail. Imagine loading your favourite software program into the system and running it from any PC without having to bring diskettes along. COMPEX's new A-NET II network adaptor fulfills your wildest expectations.

COMPEX A-NET II is functionally equivalent to the SMC ARCNET, the "Editor's Choice" of the prestigious PC MAGAZINE. The COMPEX A-NET II, by the use of two in-house designed integrated circuits, is half the size, twice the bus speed, half the power consumption and priced to fit the tightest of budgets.

We are so confident of its reliability that we have decided to offer it with a 2-year Y-MICRO warranty.

COMPEX A-NET II — Half the Size, Half the Price.

Always ask for Y-MICRO Warranty Label for assured Warranty Service.

It may look like a cash register -

but look what you get at the end of the day

- Gross profit analysis by product and supplier
- Lay-By facilities and Credit limit control
- Daily control of stock re-ordering
- Account information and Monthly Statements
- Comparative figures daily-weekly-monthly
- Price look-up on all items
- Sales analysis and profits for each stock line

Canon TX-50
THE INTELLIGENT CASH REGISTER

Canon's New TX-50 gives you complete and confidential business information at point-of-sale

Now Management can get instant daily information from all sales transactions made at the counter. Quick and simple to operate the TX-50 ensures that confidential pricing and profit cannot be discovered by office staff. The versatile TX-50 can be used as a single unit in a small business or multiple units can be linked into the Canon computer for centralised information.

FOREWORD

On behalf of Swan Exhibitions and all Exhibitors I would like to extend a very warm welcome to all the visitors to Computer 88. Computer 88 is the fifth show and this year is by far the largest.

New products, new technology and new ideas make this years exhibition the ideal opportunity to discover the latest developments in computers, software, printers and other computer peripheral equipment.

I trust you will enjoy your visit and that it proves a valuable, interesting and profitable exercise. I would once again like to thank both exhibitor and attendee's alike for your continued support in making Computer 88 and past shows the most successful in Australia.

Excitement builds for 'top show'

THE Sunday Times Computer 87 Exhibition will be in May.

The popular computer exhibition will again be in the Orchard Hotel Convention Centre and organisers are expecting another "top show".

Sunday Times computer pages will keep readers up-to-date on the show, and articles and features will highlight exhibits, people and issues surrounding the State's premier computer show.

WA's only computer show, is now in its fourth year.

The Sunday Times will participate at a higher level because it recognises contributions the exhibition has made to the WA computer industry.

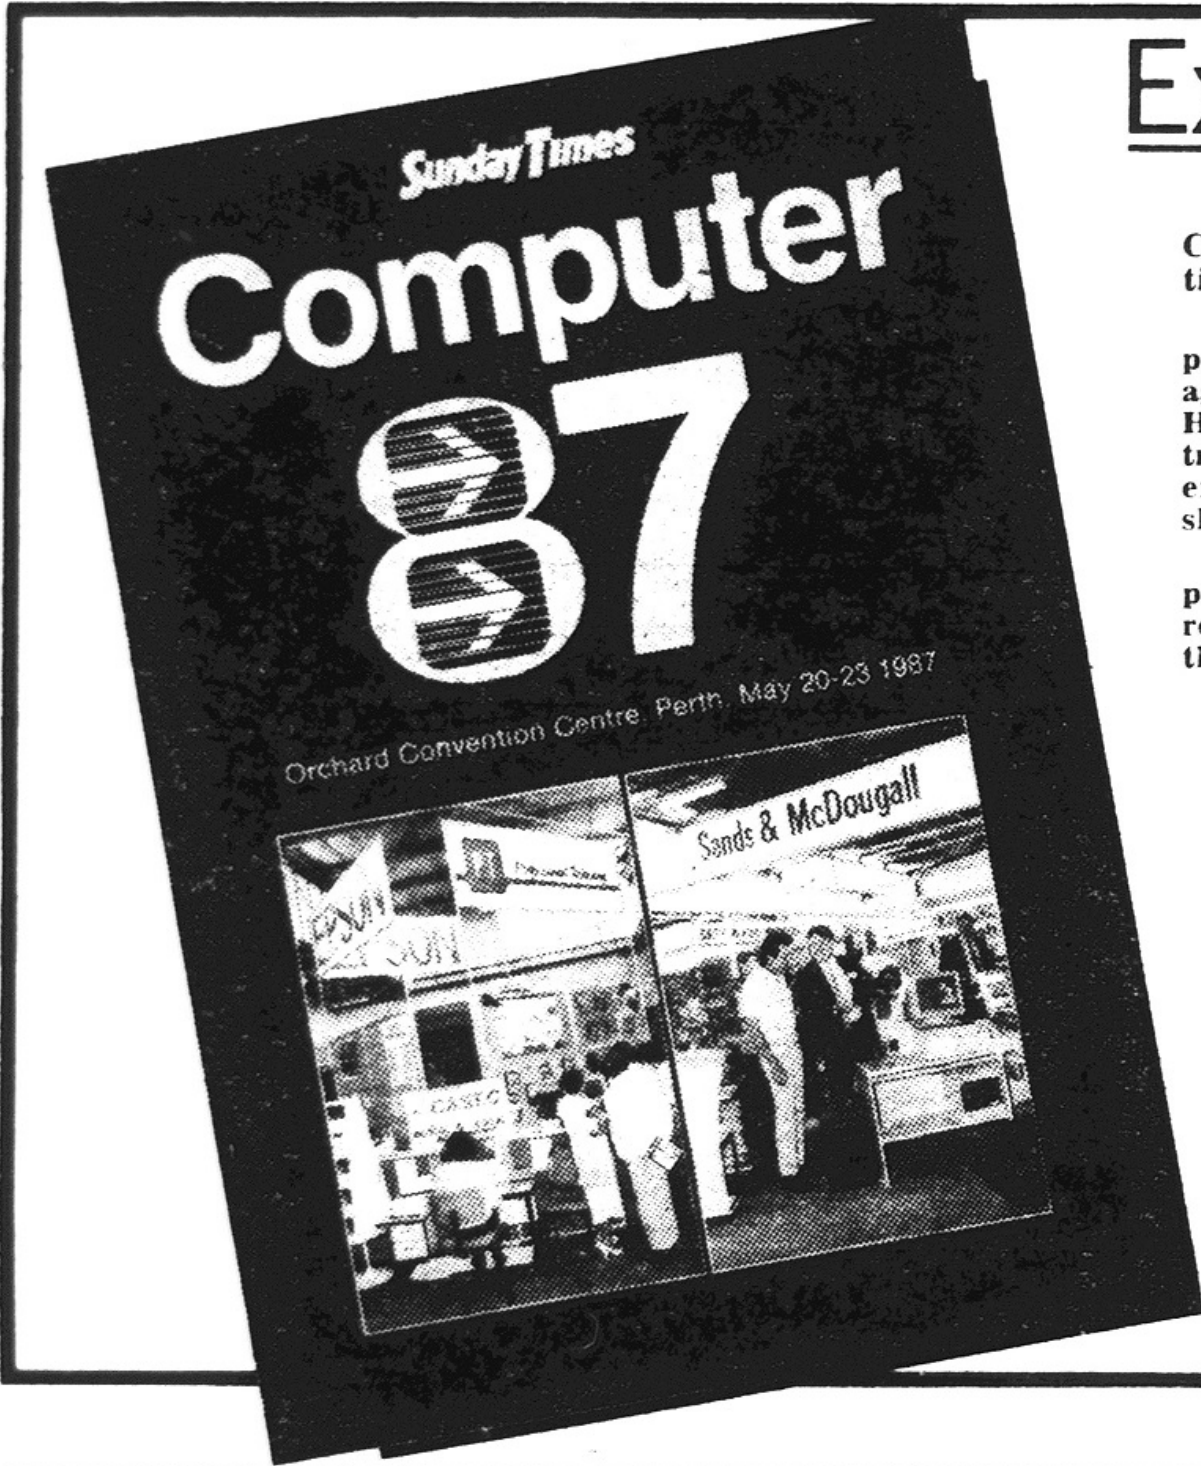

Exhibition organiser, Mr Shaun Smith, from Computer Exhibitions International, said Sunday Times Computer 87 offered the most cost-efficient way of generating new sales though mass marketing power.

He said the philosophy of the exhibition was to bring the customer to the product. "Every detail of this show is carefully planned and co-ordinated," Mr Smith said.

"Our brochures are now available and direct mailing has begun. If would-be exhibitors do not receive brochures, they can contact me on 443 3400."

The exhibition runs for four days from May 20 - May 23, with the final day open to the public.

Package makes learning a buzz

TECH-SOFT has released three new packages of educational software for Amstrad home computers.

The programs were written in WA and conform to the school curriculum.

Martin Carr from Tech-soft said the programs are already in use in some schools and are proving a useful teaching aid.

Martin said programs reinforce concepts learned in the classroom while at the same time provide the child with a sense of achievement and fun.

The programs have been designed for years four to seven.

"They will prove extremely useful to parents as a way to ensure continued participation of the child in areas often found tedious at school," Martin said.

"The programs combine to provide a totally positive educational package designed to reinforce concepts presented in the day-today learning environment and they make learning fun, too."

Tech-soft has made sure the cover of the program's package will prove attractive - it features a comic strip to highlight advantages of Tech-soft educational software.

The software firm intends to give continued support to the educational sector and it looks forward to the release of further titles, Martin said, including a science and social studies package later this year.

The three new titles are Mathematics, Spelling Tutor and Quizmaster.
